

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG.
DARKEN GRAY HAIR
Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe and nobody can tell.
Brush it through hair.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly, no moisture a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing the soft hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Callus? Peel It Off Quickly!

Nothing on Earth Like "Gels-It" for Corns and Calluses.

A spot of your foot which so often makes walking a agony is as easily removed by wonderful "Gels-It" as any band or soft corn anywhere on your feet. Look at this picture. A few drops of "Gels-It" did the work. The callus comes loose from the true flesh. No irritation whatever. You peel the callus right off just like a banana peel. "Gels-It" does the same thing to any corn, without any rubbing, or use of knife, or scissors, or any other painful means. It never fails. It is common sense, and it never fails. Try it, please.

The others in the cast, which is well chosen, are very good in their parts.

"Hop Beer" Once Beat Norwich Dry Vote

How "hop beer," once brewed to meet a no-license situation in Norwich, and sold about 3 per cent. of alcohol, nullified the "dry" vote of the town in 1879 is recalled by number of Norwich citizens.

The legal proceedings recently brought by some of the large brewers in New York city to the United States court, to prevent the sale of beer to manufacture in their breweries a beverage containing no more than 2.75 per cent. of alcohol.

New York brewers insist that a product of beer with 2.75 per cent. of alcohol is not within the meaning of the United States law on intoxicating liquor.

In 1878 the town of Norwich voted against the granting of any license for the sale of intoxicating liquor.

The vote of the town was 100 to 10, and was applied to the year 1879. This vote was largely brought about by a temperance movement that time in which Rev. Leonard W. Bacon and Rev. L. T. Chamberlain, Congregational ministers, were powerful factors.

The brewers, however, did not so completely preclude the hotels and saloon keepers of Norwich from selling any beverage, wherein there was no alcohol, by reason of the beer of the town took steps to have a special beverage which contained about three per cent. of alcohol brewed.

The purpose of this beer was to sell in the town and to sell this three per cent. product. A special brew of beer was made for the Norwich dealers by a Boston brewer which was sold in the town.

The prosecuting authorities of the town, however, did not see the need of the new beverage which was known as "hop beer" and the authorities had not analyzed by competent chemists, and decided by reason of the beer containing three per cent. of alcohol it was a clear violation of the law against the selling of "intoxicating liquor."

The dealers, however, did not see the need of the new beverage which was known as "hop beer" and the authorities had not analyzed by competent chemists, and decided by reason of the beer containing three per cent. of alcohol it was a clear violation of the law against the selling of "intoxicating liquor."

ELIZABETH GILMAN TELLS OF Y. M. C. A. WORK "OVER THERE"

Miss Elizabeth Gilman, formerly of Norwich, who is a Y. M. C. A. worker in France and has been stationed at Chateau Thierry, writes the accompanying interesting letter of Y. M. C. A. work "over there." She calls it "A tale from the Wayside Inn at Chateau Thierry."

Now that Paris is regaining so much of its normal life, with sand bags and notices of "Abris" removed, cakes for sale in the shops and smartly dressed girls going out for their morning horseback ride in the Bois, it is somewhat interesting and invigorating to leave the city for a while and to go to the country where our men and the French together did such a large share in winning the war between 1914 and November 11th.

Chateau-Thierry, Verdun will be names to conjure by for all time and it has been a privilege to be stationed here.

Let me tell you what our work was on the side of the Marne very near the bridge which was blown up during the war and then so speedily repaired by some of our American troops.

The Y. M. C. A. was fortunate in securing a fine private dwelling house, built by the notary public of the town just before the war. The Boches occupied it for a time but did no very serious damage.

At the next election the town voted for license and that has been the policy of the town down to the present time.

The result of the trial was a verdict of not guilty on the ground that the "hop beer" was not an intoxicating beverage.

During the whole year of 1879 the "hop beer" was openly sold and no further prosecutions were brought against the dealers.

About the next election the town voted for license and that has been the policy of the town down to the present time.

The result of the trial was a verdict of not guilty on the ground that the "hop beer" was not an intoxicating beverage.
